COURSE DESCRIPTION (OVERVIEW):

Image Synthesis:

Producing A.I. Art with Midjourney

Learn how to use Midjourney, the popular generative artificial intelligence model, to quickly produce numbers of high quality digital images in a staggering variety of styles, using simple, natural language to prompt the results. The process and the resulting images can be rewarding, surprising and powerfully compelling.

No previous artistic experience or manual skills are required, but a good imagination and clear communication skills will prove quite valuable in this field.

Midjourney is being adopted in a variety of traditional graphic arts settings, becoming an industry standard for creative inspiration and the generation of client mock-ups, storyboards and other pre-production applications.

Still, a recent survey of the roughly 15 million worldwide users found that professional artists make up only a small portion of the community.

This particular field is rapidly growing and changing. New integrations and applications of the process are waiting to be imagined and realized by the next waves of visionaries.

Weekly one hour online group sessions, with limited in-person space, take place in a private channel on Discord, the chat app where all Midjourney users worldwide interact with the image generation bot. These class times will offer opportunities for instruction, group share and critique, discussions about technique, demonstrations and chances for collaboration.

Practice and cooperation outside of scheduled class times are easily accomplished through Discord and highly encouraged. There is no limit on the number of images we can create during the semester.

Class requirements:

Students must be at least 13 years old, have a Discord account and access to a computer, tablet or phone with the app installed.

Please Note:

Midjourney subscription fees are covered for the duration of the class.

Midjourney is rated PG-13. This means that the AI will sometimes, whether intended or not by the user, generate images which some people may find unsuitable for younger viewers. Please use your guidance as guardian and reach out with any reservations or questions. Feel free to sign up for a Discord account and observe the class along with your student any time.
